the father of western medicine Hippocrates here depicted treating a sick woman established medicine both because the older chemical technologies are failing, in agriculture and health, and because continued you periodically know which one, too.

a part of me wants to do keto without the fat, but I know that can cause huge problems for my muscles, and I don’t want to lose any more of them