Honduras, Guatemala, and El Salvador are now suffering a staggering increase in drug trafficking and crime, as are island countries of the Caribbean such as Haiti, Jamaica, and Dominican Republic.

It would not have been beyond Conrad's power to make that provision if he had thought it necessary.