Once asleep, 80 percent of people with RLS also exhibit another condition: periodic limb movement during sleep (PLMS), in which the legs jerk as often as every 20 or 30 seconds.